INSTRUCTOR

Mrs. Jaime Rocha attended the Benz School of Floral Design at Texas A&M University in College Station, TX. Afterwards, she began working in local floral shops, specializing in designs which include large corporate parties, Christmas, Thanksgiving, and home designs. In 2006, she continued her career, focusing on design in local churches and managing the Liturgical seasons for multiple denominations. She enjoys designing for weddings, special events and special creations for family and friends. Her goal is to equip people with knowledge of flowers and design so they can achieve their personal style with success.

ABOUT THE CLASS The class set up: You can begin with 2 classes in the basics of floral design: how to care for flowers, elements of design and tools, caring for silk plants, and how to make bows. After these foundation classes, students may sign up to fashion a Thanksgiving piece and/or Christmas project, and all future floral design project classes. Both Thanksgiving and Christmas classes require 2 sessions — details on those classes will be provided during Basic Floral Design.
